Lokken - NAU grad, started online tutoring company

Deg in Math, background in education

Tailored Tutoring: tutoring company with many services

In person 1 on1

Similar to Kahn Academy and Chegg

Chegg offers online textbook solutions

Kahn Academy teaches broad concepts

Tailored Tutoring combines these to be personalized

They upload a picture of a problem to a website, the company produces a video to work out the problem

Very little login

Want to have profiles with privately viewable videos from the tutors

Want a website with their profile,

Student makes profile, can choose classes they are in which joins them to a course shell

Post photos to a course shell where any tutor for that course can view all submissions in that category

Would like to have a mobile app through all this

App would link to camera on phone to take photos and post to the shell

Huge hiring round to get tutors: constantly updating new tutors with new courses

In-person service in intact, where they want it.

The "Submit My Assignment" section is our work.

Want student/tutor profiles synced with calendars to allow easy input for availability
Sync logins with facebook, social medias

Can book online for an in person
Another tab with online tutoring or a homepage to prompt for this stuff.
Would prompt students to choose from a list of available classes

Class lists: descriptions and elaborative sections on the classes

Student: Your submitted assignments section to see those, the tutors would post videos and the students can view these from there

Students will submit assignments, picture files, tutors submit video files, availability
Tutors have a 12 hour turn-around.

Payment/Paypal integration later on.

Constantly getting new courses through new tutors
Payment: $1 per min of video produced by tutors

Admin access to all tutors and students profiles, all videos submitted
Services section: shows classes. Needs a Available classes section that students can easily explore to view different types of courses.

Current site hosted by Wix?
All done through them.

If we have suggestions on tech, make them, he is open to new changes.
Looking for a working prototype by Jan-Feb-ish

Rob Lokken: 480-323-8616

This needs to be Mobile-optimized.

We need to come up with a regular meeting schedule to meet with Rob. Tuesday Evenings is best.

Also want multiple file upload in case of multiple questions from students.

Students should be able to click on their single course shell, and see everything they have submitted for studying and so on.

Business: like chegg on steroids. Want to scale to multiple schools.

Assigned Tasks

Send Rob phone numbers (done)

Team meet for developing project vision (tentatively done)

Project Decisions

Expecting AWS for cloud hosting and storage

MongoDB

React UI

Video Hosting? Let's learn some methods to do this so we can discuss later

Payment Transactions - PayPal and on-site payment
